It's desired to provide the visitor access to internet videos which contain messages that support and expand The Phileo Phoundation's mission. Not all of the following video links may be active. Go to the link below "Link to the entire composition" to access these videos.

1. Life After Life: By Dr. Raymond Moody, a leading pioneer in the research of the "near death experience" (NDE). The video is about 57 minutes long. Also for additional NDE's videos, go to Website Feature #11 entitled "Don't Fear The Reaper," then click on the "entire composition" link," and there you'll find under "Part 4" ten more internet video links regarding NDE's. Most of these videos are positive, life affirming, and spiritually uplifting. However, there are several NDE descriptions that are totally terrifying.
2. Personal Stories From Disabled Veterans: There are several, emotionally moving videos from the Disabled American Veterans website. Every American should visit this website so they can enhance their appreciation and admiration of America's "Good Warriors."
3. The Last Lecture: By Dr. Randy Pausch, a leading educator in the field of computer engineering. The video is about 75 minutes long. This video, along with Dr. Pausch's bestselling book with the same title, brought national attention because of his love and zest for life even though he was dying from pancreatic cancer.
4. A Charlie Rose interview of Dr. Armand M. Nicholi, Jr.: Dr. Nicholi is a renowned psychiatrist and bestselling author of a book entitled "A Question of God." The story of the book has C. S. Lewis and Sigmund Freud debating God, Love, Sex, and the Meaning of Life. The video is about 30 minutes long.
5. The Amazing Diane Rose from Waco, Texas: Diane Rose is a blind woman who sews quilts. The video is about 6 minutes long.
6. Life Is Like A Cup Of Coffee: The author of this story is unknown, but it's a very popular video with over 2,000,000 viewers and still growing. The video's message is about the emptiness of envy and the lack of focus upon the true values of life. The video is about 3 minutes long.

The Phileo Phoundation searches the internet for uplifting messages from other organizations and individuals. When such a message is found and is available for public use, such messages are added to The Phileo Phoundation website. We hope the visitor finds value from these video messages.

Dr. Raymond Moody

The Phileo Phoundation's founder Reid Collier has always been impressed by the work of Dr. Raymond Moody regarding the near death experience. Dr. Moody has a medical degree plus PhD degrees in psychology and philosophy. Dr. Moody's website address is www.LifeAfterLife.com. One day in a visit to his website, a very good video was included on website. This video is thoroughly enjoyed by the majority of people, especially People of Faith. Here is a link to Dr. Moody's inspiring presentation.

Disabled American Veterans

Few stories stir the heart more than the tales of American veterans who bravely served in the crucible of the battlefield. The DAV includes on their website many videos of veterans who became disabled as a result of war. These stories include veterans from World War II to current battlefield encounters. The videos have the actual veterans tell his or hers story, how they got injured, and what their injuries are. These videos are incredibly moving and demonstrate the veterans' internal fortitude to overcome their life changing adversities. In spite of their physical and emotional experience of de-humanization, they use their moment of tribulation to make them a better person in lieu of a bitter person. If you don't find these videos inspirational, then you should check your pulse to make sure you're still alive. The DAV is very worthy of your financial contributions and support. Here is a link to the DAV's website. The website's home page includes a play list of many captivating videos.

Dr. Randy Pausch

A more recent life-inspirational event was provided by Dr. Randy Pausch. Dr. Pausch has a PhD degree in computer science and his last professorship was at Carnegie-Mellon University located in Pittsburgh. His website address is www.cmu.edu/randyslecture. Dr. Pausch died from pancreatic cancer on July 25, 2008. In response to his condition and as an artistic presentation, Dr. Pausch gave his last lecture on September 18, 2007. The lecture focused upon fulfilling life dreams and helping others fulfill their life dreams. The lecture is truly inspiring and incredibly uplifting, being a positive, optimistic and hopeful statement on the glory of life. Dr. Pausch's sense of humor also shines throughout his lecture. One of the available website addresses for the audio/visual presentation is:

Dr. Armand M. Nicholi, Jr.

Dr. Armand M. Nicholi, Jr. is a clinical professor of psychiatry at Harvard Medical School and the Massachusetts General Hospital. Dr. Nicholi has taught a course on Sigmund Freud and C. S. Lewis at Harvard College and the Harvard Medical School for more than 35 years. The course concerns the question of the reality of God, whereby the lecture is presented as an active debate between Sigmund Freud (representing atheism) and C. S. Lewis (representing theism). The arguments presented by both men are derived from their published writings. Dr. Nicholi eventually converted his course into book form, whereby the book's title is "The Question of God: C. S. Lewis and Sigmund Freud Debate God, Love, Sex, and the Meaning of Life." In 2004 PBS produced a two part, four hour TV series of the book, where the series title is "The Question of God." The film is basically biographies of Freud and Lewis with the focus upon the question of the reality of God. The film is also supplemented throughout with Dr. Nicholi hosting a round table discussion among an insightful panel composed of atheists and theists. Both the book and the film are extremely thought provoking and create "delicious food for thought" for all truth seekers. Come only if you want to stop and think, reflect and ponder. Charlie Rose, the acclaimed broadcast journalist and interviewer whose show is broadcast on PBS, interviewed Dr. Nicholi in 2010. The interview is available on Charlie Rose's website:

The Amazing Diane Rose from Waco, Texas

As everyone knows, You Tube has some really amazing and uplifting videos. Stories that become really popular get passed around by family and friends. Here's one of those stories which my sister emailed to me. This is an interview by Bob Phillips who is the Texas Country Reporter. In this video Mr. Phillips interviews Diane Rose who is totally blind. She makes her daily bread by sewing beautiful quilts. Although she's blind, she radiates love and the indomitable spirit of the sentient human being. I'm highly confident she's the real and true Rose of Texas.

Life Is Like A Cup Of Coffee

The author of this story is unknown, but it's very popular with over 2,000,000 viewers and growing. The video's message is about the emptiness of envy and the lack of focus upon the true values of life. What are the true values of life? All the true values of life are either directly or indirectly derived from this crazy little thing called love.
